

Bioretention BMP in a cul-de-sac of a LID residential neighborhood in construction in western WA. The bioretention manages stormwater runoff from the roadway and contributing roof and driveway areas. Numerous large existing trees were retained, adding valuable stormwater and community benefits.

Photo 1. Bioretention BMP in a LID Residential Neighborhood